A Letter from the President January 2024

I have been thinking a lot about friendship lately. Every year, I send cards and a letter to my friends who are living far away, for Chanukah, Christmas and the New Year. I begin by going through my address book and making a list of names and choosing who gets what kind of card. This certainly takes much longer than it should because I stop to reminisce about everyone on my list. The majority of the list are people who were once part of my daily life. Currently our contacts are only a card and letter once a year to catch up with each other. Some are friends I see once or twice a year when we go North to visit family. Some I see a few times a year via Zoom or we speak to on the phone. There are those who I can't send a card to because they have passed away. They remain in my address book, my mind and my heart.

I am blessed with many wonderful friends. My sister has always been my best friend. Growing up, my cousins were my closest friends. We are still close today. This past October, I had the opportunity to get together with high school friends for a reunion. I have known some of these people since I was five years old but hadn't seen them since high school. Because of our shared history, it took no time to catch up and form bonds again. Social media, for all of its faults, has made it easier to connect with my friends in real time. "We didn't realize we were making memories. We just knew we were having fun." —Pooh

When we moved here eighteen years ago, we knew no one. Through work, the neighborhood, and Temple Shalom, we have made friends in Myrtle Beach. Our friends are a diverse group of people. We have different religions, have different political views as well as food and entertainment preferences. Most importantly, we all share basic core values regarding caring for others and treating others with respect. "A day without a friend is like a pot without a single drop of honey left inside." --Pooh

Are you new to the area? Come to services on a Friday night or Saturday morning. Join us for the Oneg or Kiddush and start making new friends. Do you just need someone to talk to? Fill out the contact us form on the Temple Shalom website and I will call you. Are you a member who doesn't usually participate? Come to some of our many events and start to get to know us better. Our phone directory is part of the member's only section of the Temple website and is emailed to all congregants. Feel free to call me or any member of the board if you need a chat or ask questions. Email us and we will reach out to you. "You can't stay in your corner of the forest waiting for others to come to you. You have to go to them sometimes." --Pooh

My word for the new year is connection. With the world all topsy turvy, we need to stay connected with each other to keep ourselves grounded. Whether you are celebrating or struggling, it is always better to have friends to share life events with you. "It isn't much good having anything exciting, if you can't share it with somebody." —Pooh

"A little Consideration, a little Thought for Others, makes all the difference." —Eeyore

Wishing you a Happy, healthy, connected 2024,

Hope Sachwald

SHABBAT SERVICES

We meet at 4023 Belle Terre Blvd., Myrtle Beach, SC 29579.

Our Friday evening services begin at 7:30pm. Saturday at 10:30 AM. Members who cannot physically attend Friday night or scheduled Saturday services can view services via Zoom. Contact President@templeshalommyrtlebeach.org to request a Zoom invitation.

Isaac Bashevis Singer, who was the recipient of a Nobel Prize for Literature, was perhaps the greatest Yiddish writer of all time. He wrote many short stories about Jewish life in the Polish ghettos before World War II.

In one of his short stories, entitled "A Piece of Advice," Singer writes that when he was a young man, he and his wife lived with his in-laws in the town of Rachev. His father-in-law was a wealthy man, an honest Jew and a Talmudic scholar. He was a dealer in timber, but whenever he had a free moment, he read one of the Holy Books.

Singer's father-in-law had a major fault. He had an uncontrollable anger. He had been able to conquer all his other moral weaknesses, but not that one. If a merchant didn't repay a debt to him on time, and to the penny, he called him a swindler and would have no further dealings with him. If the town shoemaker made him a pair of boots and they were a little too tight or too loose, he harangued him heartlessly. Once, when Singer borrowed a pen from his father-in-law and forgot to immediately return it, his father-in-law fell into such a rage that he struck his son-in-law in the face. The father-in-law regretted what he had done. But he asked his son-in-law, "What shall I do? I'm a bad-tempered man. I know that the sin of anger is as evil as that of idolatry. For years I've tried to control my temper, yet it only gets worse. I'm sinking into hell." Singer suggested that he and his father-in-law travel to the town of Kuzmir and talk to Chasidic Rabbi Chazkele there to seek his advice.

So they journeyed to Kuzmir and Singer's father-in-law met with Rabbi Chazkele. Singer asked his father-in-law what Rabbi Chazkele told him and he replied, "He told me to become a flatterer. For eight days, I must flatter everyone I meet, even the worst scoundrel." Rabbi Chazkele asked, "What should a Jew do if he (she) is not a pious person? Let him(her) play the pious person. The Almighty does not require good intentions, The deed is what counts. It's what you do that matters. Are you angry perhaps? Go ahead and be angry, but speak gentle words and be friendly at the same time. Are you afraid of concealing your real nature? For whose sake are you lying? For your Father in Heaven. His Holy Name, blessed be He, knows the intention and the intention behind the intention, and it is this that is the main thing."

I think the lesson of this story is that perhaps positive actions should precede positive thoughts. If you have negative thoughts, act in a positive manner. Positive thoughts will come later. If you are not happy, act happy. Happiness will come later. And the same applies to faith. If you don't believe, act as if you did believe. Faith will come later.

Rabbi David Weissman

ONEG NEWS

Happy New Year to all! We hope 2024 finds you healthy and enjoying new adventures.

For those of you who are unable to attend services on Friday nights you can now sponsor an Oneg. Contact me and we will choose an upcoming date. Please send a check in to the temple and write "Sponsor an Oneg" on the check ($18-$25) to cover the cost of sweets/snacks and a challah. Someone will be assigned to shop, set up and organize the clean-up for you. If you have a specific date in mind for a special occasion and that date is available-it will be yours. If you want a specific item (such as a celebratory cake), let me know. Your sponsorship will, as always, be listed in the newsletter and the weekly emails. Sponsoring an oneg is for those who are temporarily or permanently unable to attend services.

We do hope that you will make every effort to attend services.

Thanks to all who provided or sponsored an Oneg during 2023. We need people for Feb 2 and 23, 2004. Many other dates are available.

A special thank you to our shoppers and set up (and clean up) committee: Hope, Irene, Dave and Cookie! If you are scheduled to provide an oneg and find that due to illness or other emergency you cannot do this, please notify Hope or Flo so alternate plans can be made.

Jessica Foreman sends out birthday and anniversary cards from Temple Shalom based on our roster. Sometimes the event is a one-time celebration--grandchildren, graduations, or marriages or an unpleasant event --illnesses, accidents, or death. Please e-mail Jessica if you know of someone in the Temple family, who has a celebration or could use a helping hand, at jessicafforman@gmail.com.

Thank You Notes

Thank you to Tiffany Andrews for representing Temple Shalom at Standing with Israel held by the Grand Strand Baptist Church.

Thank you to everyone who made our Chanukah festivities a success! Special thank you to Michelle Foels for leading the Trivia game and to Beth Boettigheimer, Flo Pflaster, and Mike Sachwald for the delicious latkes. Thank you, Rabbi David, for lighting the Menorah at Market Common and leading us in Chanukah songs. Thank you to Myrtle Beach Police and Mayor Bethune for providing security at Market Common.

Thank you to Cookie and Mike for arranging for and supervising the power washing of the building.

Thank you to Jason Roebuck at SCN for providing us with security information and updates.
