SHALOM

A Reform Congregation

Volume 17 Issue 9

The Temple Shalom board has reached out to solicit articles from our membership for our monthly bulletin. Let's get to know each other a bit more. Hopefully this will encourage more participation in temple activities. Our first article comes from Bill Santon.

Hello everyone It's taken me 40 years to find you guys....

It's true , .....I visited my Jewish mom in Cairo, Egypt approximately 40 years ago and she insisted on giving me and my siblings gold cartouches with our names on them there, at that time.

Looking back now I think it was so that we would never forget our Jewish heritage...I have never taken it off .....OR.....forgotten .

For many us.... wandering around in our spiritual deserts, finding an open doorway back to our true faith is very difficult.

Sending the very first email seeking information seemed scary and unknown.

I remember so clearly a few short months ago as we approached the front door wandering "what's the inside like"? How will strangers be received? What is the reform service like?

Well ...we instantly both felt such a warm feeling a few seconds after we stepped inside. The layout, colors, lighting, seating, sound systems and beautiful Ark just emit a very LOVING family type feeling.

Of course... a temple is so much more than an actual building and really about the members and Rabbi. "The human connection we all so need and desire"...You guys are all amazing and do such a great job with all the services, communications, security, education and..... of course all the excellent food items we enjoy together each week. This especially adds so much to the overall experience.

Breaking bread , sharing a small wine and prayer and then just sitting together talking with each other is so very important... especially now, during so much worry over the war in Israel and all the anti semitism rising up again.

Participating in all of the High Holiday services and events was so spiritually moving.

I am so very appreciative that Rabbi Doron first, then Hope and Rabbi David answered my calls seeking a new spiritual direction.

Jamie and I love everyone here and felt like family on our very first visit.

We love the reform pathway as it's so very inclusive and allows easier understanding and access for new , old and returning Jews .

Thanks so much to Lily Ann, and fellow leaders and supporters who helped create and build Temple Shalom !

All of this took unbelievable courage, dedication and years of hard work !

Congratulations to everyone!!!! and thanks again for welcoming us home.

God, continue to bless Temple Shalom and all the Jewish people .....

SHABBAT SERVICES

We meet at 4023 Belle Terre Blvd., Myrtle Beach, SC 29579.

Our Friday evening services begin at 7:30pm. Saturday at 10:30 AM. Members who cannot physically attend Friday night or scheduled Saturday services can view services via Zoom. Contact: Templeshalommbpresident@gmail.com to request a Zoom invitation.

What is the difference between a religious believer – someone who has faith in God and a religious skeptic – someone who doesn't believe in the existence of God?

The answer to this question isn't so easy. There aren't too many believers who never have any doubts.

There are many things that happen that can test one's faith. The loss of a loved one. Severe illness and pain. Senseless violence like mass murders and terrorism. The loss of life and property resulting from hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, earthquakes and tsunamis.

And there aren't too many people who profess to be non-believers who sometimes -when a seemingly miraculous event occurs – who don't – at least temporarily – believe in a Supreme Power.

A rabbi serving as the principal of a yeshiva (Jewish day school) in Israel was asked if he believed in God 100 percent. He replied, "I have faith 85 percent. I get to the other 15 percent by momentum." I think what he meant was that he got to that other 15 percent by praying, by attending synagogue services, by studying and by performing acts of loving kindness. All of these activities brought him closer to God. All of these activities made up for his 15 percent of doubt.

Even the most saintly people can have their doubts. Even saintly Sister Teresa admitted that witnessing the squalor, the human suffering and pain in the slums of Calcutta caused her to doubt her faith.

I think that witnessing all of the bad things that happen in this world can cause many people characterized as believers to sometimes have doubts.

The difference between the believer and the skeptic is frequency of faith. There may be times when the believer has doubts. But the totality of the believer's life is based on the faith that there is a God, that ultimately good will prevail over evil, that there is ultimate justice.

The believer may not understand the workings of existence. It would really be presumptuous of any of us to assume that we have ultimate knowledge. But the believer accepts the view that there is an Ultimate Benevolent Creator. The believer has faith that life has meaning, that existence isn't just a series of random events. The believer accepts that there is more to existence than the physical world, that there is a spiritual world that, in many respects, has more meaning than the physical, material world. Such emotions as love, compassion and duty are what make life worthwhile. These emotions aren't physical. You can't physically touch them. But they are there. And without them, life would be meaningless.

So where is God in all this?

God is the voice of your conscience trying to guide you to do the right thing when confronted by life's decisions. If you believe, God is there to comfort you during bad times.

None of this can be empirically proven. It requires a leap of faith. And that leap of faith is from the heart and not from the mind. Blaise Pascal said, "It is the heart that senses God, and not the reason. God is perceptible to the heart and not to the reason." But once you take that leap of faith, you will achieve an inner peace which is beyond the reach of the skeptic.

The relationship between God and the believer can be compared to the relationship between a husband and a wife in many marriages. The husband and wife may love each other, but there are times when they are angry with each other. Times when they disagree with each other. Times when they resent each other.

But it's the relative frequency of the positive versus the negative feelings that determines the binding nature of the marriage. If the predominant feeling in the marriage is love – despite occasional lapses – then the marriage is solid.

I think the same rule applies to faith in God. There may be times when there is a lapse or suspension of faith. But if you believe 85 percent, you can get to the other 15 percent by momentum. There are times when the believer's faith will be soaring. But there may be times when the believer has grave doubts.

But the believer doesn't throw in the towel. The believer keeps plugging and faith returns.

ONEG NEWS

For those of you who are unable to attend services on Friday nights you can now sponsor an Oneg. Contact me and we will choose an upcoming date. Please send a check in to the Temple address and write "Sponsor an Oneg" on the check ($18-$25) to cover the cost of sweets/snacks and a challah. Someone will be assigned to shop, set up and organize the clean-up for you. If you have a specific date in mind for a special occasion and that date is available-it will be yours. If you want a specific item (such as a celebratory cake), let me know. Your sponsorship will, as always, be listed in the newsletter and the weekly emails. Sponsoring an Oneg is for those who are temporarily or permanently unable to attend services.

We do hope that you will make every effort to attend services.

Thanks to an overwhelming response, the next availability is April 12 and then May 10. Other dates are still open as well.

A reminder that if you are providing an Oneg, you get the honor of lighting the Shabbat candles. If you're unsure about how to do this, ask Rabbi David, Mike Sachwald or any one of us who are there!

A special thank you to our shoppers and set up (and clean up) committee: Hope, Irene, Dave and Cookie! If you are scheduled to provide an oneg and find that due to illness or other emergency you cannot do this, please notify Hope or Flo so alternate plans can be made.

February 22-Temple Shalom held its winter mah jongg marathon

We had over 70 women... most were not temple members. We played mah jongg, we laughed and made new friends...Of course we had a delicious Chinese buffet for lunch. Many participants were first timers and heard about our marathon by word of mouth. If we keep getting more and more players maybe we should consider using the convention center...ha-levai!
