SHALOM
A Reform Congregation

Volume 18 Issue 9

A Letter from the President – March 2025

I attended URJ's Conference of Presidents Virtual Meeting on February 19, 2025, presented by Rabbi Josh Weinberg. As most of you know, I grew up in a Reform congregation. Somehow, after 13 years of Sunday school, I had never heard of the World Zionist Congress (WZC).

I want to share this information with you while stressing that neither Temple Shalom nor am I asking you to vote. URJ has asked the Presidents to share the information about the WZC and the upcoming opportunity for all American Jews to vote. Please read the fact sheet (and Jay Levine's article if you want more information) and decide if you want to cast your vote for the Reform delegates, for other delegates or not at all.

Mandy Greene, a URJ member President, created a fact sheet about the World Zionist Congress 2025 and the action that you can take:

Here are things you should know about the World Zionist Congress.

FACT 1: The World Zionist Congress (WZC) was created in 1897 by Theodor Herzl. It is sometimes called the "Parliament of the Jewish People." The WZC meets in Israel every 5 years.

FACT 2: Delegates to the WZC are selected by a vote of Jewish people who live OUTSIDE of Israel. Reform delegates to the WZC can help direct resources in Israel to organizations that support Reform values such as democracy and justice, helping to promote equality for Reform Jews in Israel.

FACT 3: The next election will be held between March 10 and May 4, 2025.

FACT 4: As an American, these are the only qualifications to vote:

- o You must self-identify as being Jewish.
- o You must be 18 years of age or older.
- o You must be a permanent resident of the US.

FACT 5: There is a $5 administrative fee to vote. Period.

For more information, visit: www.Vote4Reform.org and register to vote.

Then, starting on March 10, 2025, you will have an opportunity to vote either online or by paper ballot. Due your part to help promote Reform values in Israel.

The future has been defined as something everyone reaches at the rate of 60 minutes an hour, whatever someone does, whoever someone is. But there has always been a vast curiosity to know the future before we get there.

People consult the stars, the tea leaves, the palm readers, the crystal balls in an effort to foresee the future. Every day, people read that special section in newspapers to learn what the planets have in store for them.

Even the third patriarch Jacob tried to predict the future. We read in the Torah that the dying Jacob assembles his sons together and says to them, "Come together that I may tell you what is to befall you in the days to come," (Genesis 49.1). As we read further, however, there are no predictions of things to come. And our rabbinic sages pointed out that "Jacob wanted to foretell the future, but the Divine Presence departed from him." God apparently didn't want the future to be revealed. Why not?

If you and I were to know the future before we get there, wouldn't life lose its zest and excitement? Wouldn't it be boring as we played out mechanically the roles that had been predetermined for us?

If we knew in advance all the heartbreak and the disappointments and sorrows and griefs that awaited us, could we find the courage to go on?

The most compelling reason no one can predict the future is that the future doesn't exist. We aren't robots. We have free will to determine what happens in the future by what we do today. And there are many things about the future that are beyond our control. James Truslow Adams put his finger on the truth when he said that while an astronomer can predict precisely where every star will be at 11:30 tonight, he could make no such prediction about his young daughter.

I think that what the future has in store for us depends to a large degree on what we place in store for the future. Not the stars or the cards, but our present actions will, to a great extent, determine the future.

Rabbi David Weissman

A Letter from the President – March 2025

Jay Levine, another URJ member President shared the letter that he sent to his congregation in January that further explains the role of the WZC:

Only Israeli citizens get a vote in the Knesset, but all Jews can vote in the elections to the World Zionist Congress. These elections determine the political power balance in all of the National Institutions for the legislative period until the next congress elections. The World Zionist Congress election is a powerful way for Reform voices and Reform values to have a real and impactful say in how Israel spends its money and treats its people. We can help build a future for Israel that is democratic, pluralistic, and secure.

The outcome of the WZC election directly impacts our ability to engage in vital advocacy and legal work in Israel. Even in the difficult days since October 7th, our democracy work through the Israel Movement for Reform and Progression Judaism (IMPJ) and Israel Religious Action Center (IRAC), has proven crucial for Israel's secure and democratic nature and for marginalized individuals within Israeli society.

What's at stake in the 2025 WZC election?

Nothing less than the soul of the State of Israel is at stake in the 2025 WZC election. The ultra-Orthodox and ultra-Nationalist movements are using the levers provided through these institutions – and power gained in the World Zionist Congress elections – to advance their agenda, including:

- Increased funding for Settlements
- Rolling back gains for LGBTQ+ rights, gender equity, and religious pluralism
- Stripping Israeli Reform clergy and communities of their rights and funding
- Advancing policies to weaken the influence of Reform Jews by rejecting our conversions and questioning the authenticity of our children's Jewish identity.
- Ensuring ultra-Orthodox Israelis will not serve in the IDF
- Advancing the Netanyahu Government's judicial overhaul and anti-democratic policies of racist politicians like Ministers Itamar Ben-Gvir and Betzalel Smotrich.
- Allowing the ultra-Orthodox to keep the core curriculum out of their schools, and to advance additional gender segregation in Israeli society.

We cannot let this happen. We are committed to a bold campaign to organize and mobilize turnout for the 2025 WZC vote. Your participation is vital to ensure that we secure a future for Reform Judaism, Democracy, and Peace in Israel.

It is hard in a few words to convey the importance of every one of us participating in this worldwide election March 10-May 4, 2025!

The World Zionist Congress is our one chance to have a vote in the policy and budget decisions of the Jewish state. If you participate, you will help ensure that billions of dollars will continue to be allocated for progressive Judaism, for justice and democracy, and even we pray, peace efforts in Israel. If you struggled to answer the question, "What can I really do to make a difference in Israel right now?" this is your answer!

Voting is simple, impactful, and crucial. By participating between March 10 and May 4, 2025, you'll help secure a democratic, pluralistic, and secure future for Israel. Let's stand together and make our voices heard for a better tomorrow.

Hope Sachwald, President
