A Letter from the President December 2025

In the summer of 2016, I started reading a series by Diane Greenwood Muir. I had just retired and was at sixes and sevens with what to do next. Summers were for part time jobs, creating therapy materials and taking courses. In her Bellingwood novels, Diane created stories about people who cared about each other and their community. Along the way, she shared her wisdom on everything from child rearing to useless worrying.

Diane created two communities: the fictional Bellingwood and the Bellingwood community on Facebook and her website. Diane passed away this past spring, Carol and Jamie, her sister and brother, worked to get her final novel, The Road Leads On, Bellingwood Book #48, produced. In the Forward, Diane wrote, "I am sorry to be leaving you...You are Bellingwood, though. You always have been." Diane created a community of over 2,000 people who have been sharing joys, sorrows, milestones and recipes for over 10 years.

Diane's sister, Carol, writes: "Diane's final novel is a celebration of everything readers cherish about Bellingwood—its people, its heart, and its unshakeable belief that family (found or chosen) is what gets us through." Sound familiar? I am so blessed to have a community at Temple Shalom that fits that description.

If you are a member of our Temple and need the support of our family, please reach out to us. If you are not a member, consider becoming a part of our community.

Diane's final words of her final book: "Every bit of kindness, hope, grace, caring, generosity, and love that you share with the world around you brings Bellingwood to life." The same could be said for Temple Shalom.

Wishing you a Chanukah of light, joy, friendship, and family,

Hope

Chanukah: Ceremonies, Symbols, and Customs

The modern home celebration of Chanukah centers around the lighting of the Chanukah candles in the Chanukah Menorah (Chanukiyah), eating special foods particularly Latkes (potato pancakes) and sufganiyot (jelly donuts), playing games particularly games with a dreidel (Yiddish word for a spinning top), and singing songs. Chanukah is a time for family or friends to celebrate the Festival of Lights, our holiday that celebrates religious freedom.

Chanukah is not mentioned in the Hebrew Bible. Our source for the story of Chanukah is found in the four Books of Maccabees which are part of the Apocrypha, books written by Jews, but not part of the Biblical cannon. They were preserved as part of the Catholic version of the Bible.

What is the meaning of the menorah?

Menorah is the Hebrew word for candelabrum. In relation to the Chanukah, it refers to the nine-branched ceremonial lamp in which the Chanukah candles are placed. Chanukah Menorah and Chanukiyah are synonyms.

Is the menorah unique to Chanukah?

No. The menorah is described in the Hebrew Bible. The Torah records (Exodus 25:31-39 and 37:17-24) how the great artist, Bezalel, fashioned a seven-branched menorah that was used in the portable Tabernacle the Israelites used in the wilderness. Later the menorah was placed in the Great Temple in Jerusalem. The priests lit the lights of the menorah each night. In the year 70 when the Romans destroyed the Second Temple, they carried the menorah back to Rome. It is commemorated there in the arch of Titus. While the Roman Empire has long since vanished, a seven-branched menorah stands before the Knesset building in Israel, a tangible reminder of the indestructibility of the Jewish people. A model of the Menorah as described by the Bible can be found on the grounds leading to the Western Wall in Jerusalem.

How did the Chanukah menorah originate?

The nine-branched Chanukah menorah was a modification of the biblical menorah. The Chanukah menorah has nine branches: one branch for each day of the holiday (8) and a ninth branch called the shamash, the “servant” or “helper” light. In ancient times, oil was used in the menorah with wicks that burned. Over time, candles were substituted for the oil.

Except in times of religious persecution, the Chanukah menorah was placed outside the front door of a Jewish home during the celebration of Chanukah. Eventually the Chanukah menorah moved to the inside of the home, and placed, when safe, in the window so Jews and non-Jews can see the light which commemorates the miracle of freedom.

How do we light the Chanukah candles?

We place the candles in the menorah from right to left as you are looking at the menorah. So on the first night the candle is placed on the branch that is farthest on the right side. On the second night candles are placed in the branch that is farthest on the right and the branch next to it which is the second farthest to the right. Each night we add one more candle. So when we get to the eighth night we set up all eight candles. Why do we start with one candle and end the holiday with eight candles? There was a great debate that is recorded in the Talmud. The great scholar Shammai argued that we should start with 8 candles and each night remove one. The scholar Hillel argued that we should start with one candle and make our way to eight candles. Hillel’s side won as he argued that we should increase the light and joy of the holiday each day. In addition to the candles for each day, we set up the shamash candle which usually is at a different height from the other candles. We light the shamash candle first and then use the shamash to light the other candles. We light the candles from left to right so that the newest candle is lit first. Those are the customs. But don’t worry if you get confused about how to set up your Chanukah menorah each night and which candles you light first. What I find most important is that each night we light one more candle than the previous night, so by the final night you have eight candles plus the shamash burning brightly.

Why eight days?

The most popular interpretation of this eight day celebration is the famous story of the miracle of the oil. In this legend that is found in the Talmud, when the Maccabees went to light the Eternal light after they had cleaned up the Temple, they found only one cruse or container of sanctified oil, enough to keep the light burning for one day. By some miracle that one container of oil lasted for eight days which was the time it took to harvest fresh olives, extract and sanctify the oil for use in the Temple.

Another explanation is that Judah Maccabee modeled the holiday after Solomon’s eight day dedication of the First Temple (II Chronicles 7:8-10).

What is the story behind Latkes?

Latkes, potato pancakes are the main food eaten on Chanukah. The potato itself is not significant; the oil that the latkes are fried in remind us of the miracle of the oil. It is possible that potatoes were chosen as they would have been harvested in the late fall in Eastern Europe and kept fresh in cellar rooms through December when we celebrate Chanukah. In Israel and more recently in America too, sufaniyot, jelly donuts, are also eaten as they too are fried in oil.

ONEG NEWS

Thanks to so many of you, all of 2025 dates have been filled with wonderful onegs. On to 2026!!

January 23 and 30 are available.

Sponsored onegs will be assigned when the need exists.

Plan ahead!

If you pick a date for a special occasion, let me know. (Yahrzeit, anniversary, birthday, etc).

Remember if you are providing an Oneg, you get the honor of lighting the Shabbat candles. If you aren't sure how, ask Rabbi Aaron or any of the regular Friday attendees.

If you are homebound and would like to sponsor an Oneg, contact me.

You can ask me how to do this if you are unsure

Our fall 2025 Mah Jongg marathon is over. It was a rousing success. Over 80 people attended and we sold out in under 2 days. When people were asked what they liked best about our marathon, they say friendly people, a stress free environment, and the delicious food. Some even like the “valuable “ prizes. It would not have been a success without Michelle Foels. She does all the behind the scenes work. She handles all the registrations either by check or PayPal.

Linda and Stephen Post, Bill Stanton, Barbara Poreda and her son Matthew did a wonderful job setting up the temple. Felice Braidner helped assist all players in finding their table. Felice and Ina also sold the raffles. Cookie Brenner and Michelle assisted with the parking along with Bill, the security guard. It always amazes me how many cars we can fit in our lot. Linda , Felice, Marlene and Ina helped with the serving. Martha Tomanelli helped with clean up. Bill, Linda and Stephen did an awesome job putting the temple back together. Most important I have to thank Hope Sachwald for shopping with me... and also for her positive aura which keeps the temple running so smooth. Each marathon gets better and better.
